

M. Parry

Matt Parry has given every indication that he will be the next UK racing driver to get an F1 seat and that could be as early as 2017/18

Matt boasts an almost perfect progression pedigree.

- FKS National Junior Champion 2009
- World Kart Finals Vice Champion
- British Junior Kart Champion 2010
- Formula BMW Champion 2012
- Northern European Formula Renault Champion 2013
- 2014 Formula Renault Eurocup
- 2015 F1 Support Series GP3

This spectacular record was recognised nationally when Matt became the 25th McLaren Autosport BRDC Award winner in December 2013, joining the likes of F1 drivers David Coulthard, Jenson Button and Paul di Resta on the roll of honour.

Wales also recognised Matt's achievements, awarding him the Carwyn James Trophy – which includes Gareth Bale amongst previous recipients - as the Young Welsh Sportsman of the Year for 2013.

The British Racing Drivers Club, owner of the Silverstone circuit and promoter of the British Grand Prix, provided Matt with the ultimate honour by bestowing upon him full membership to one of the most exclusive clubs in the UK.

As one of the UK's leading prospects, Matt is part of an elite group of support organisations:

- MSA Team UK is a national squad of elite drivers who are hand-picked to receive a bespoke performance management program. <https://www.msauk.org/Development/MSA-Academy/Team-UK>
- BRDC Superstar programme. <http://www.brdc.co.uk/Superstars>
- Sport Wales - 3 Year financial support and access to their training facilities.

There is now a very real and present opportunity for UK businesses to invest in a proven product and quite apart from the obvious prestige of being associated with a young person representing the UK on a world stage, to get a return on that investment from the certain substantial future earnings that will follow.

BRDC Award 2013

“Matt was the first driver on our list for the ‘McLaren Autosport BRDC Young Driver’ 2013 Award. I got very close to him and he was very very impressive during the test.

He drove a Mercedes 500bhp DTM, a McLaren 525bhp GT3 and a 500bhp Formula 2 car. He was very fast and consistent in all disciplines. That’s why he won!

Matt is a star of the future.”

So, these are the starter facts and figures for any interested Associate:

In 2016 Matt will compete in his second year of FIA/FOM F1 support series GP3. Qualifying and all races are televised live on Sky Sports F1. Being part of the F1 show, GP3 is, alongside GP2, the most prestigious sub-F1 series, with current F1 drivers Daniil Kvyat and Valtteri Bottas direct entrants from the series.

With podium finishes in an impressive 2015 rookie GP3 performance, Matt will enter the 2016 season as a championship favourite. He has already raised €100,000 and is looking to raise a further €500,000 to set him on his final journey to F1.

Outside investment can be in any form or size and can range from simple race car advertisements or other sponsorships, through to a charged debenture in Matt Parry Promotions, with pre-set repayment terms based on future earnings. Any monies invested will go solely to the race teams for racing purposes as Matt's personal expenses are catered for.

Additional 'money can't buy' benefits include:

Two BRDC (British Racing Drivers' Club) passes with full use of the Club facilities at Silverstone and free access to any Silverstone event throughout the year - including F1 and MotoGP.

Free access, VIP treatment and hospitality at any event where Matt is competing.

This of course includes all joint F1/ GP3 events

Organised track days with Matt and BMW UK around the UK's best circuit, Silverstone.

And, of course, complete priority access to the F1 paddock as a Matt Parry guest, when he reaches the pinnacle of motorsport.

This is not for the faint-hearted.

This is not some youngster looking to subsidise his racing passion. This is a young man who has demonstrated his talent and commitment to his chosen sport and has emerged as a winner on the world stage.
